

Big Powers Step Nearer Plan for Disarmament

LEAD OFFICIALS ENCOURAGED
LONDON (AP)—Harold Stassen said today that the big powers are nearer to a first-step disarmament agreement than they have been since World War II.

Stassen, U. S. delegate to the five-nation U. N. disarmament committee, returned from Washington for resumption of the talks this afternoon after conferences with Secretary of State Dulles and other State Department officials.

"We are nearer to an agreement for the first step than we have been at any time in the last 11 years," Stassen told reporters at London Airport.

"Some difficult problems remain," he continued. "Part of the major problems has been overcome, but a few major ones remain."

"After all, the first step is the most difficult, which is verified by the fact that it has been 11 years being laid."

Officials in Washington, after Stassen's conference there, described as encouraging Russia's reaction to the new U. S. plan for a limited start on arms control.

Before he flew to Washington last week, Stassen had discussed the American plan privately and

Local Penney Manager Is Transferred

Harrell C. Hall, manager of the J. C. Penney Company store here, has resigned his position to accept a promotion in the nation-wide Penney organization.

He will become manager of the Monett, Mo., store effective June 27. Mrs. Hall and their two children, Richard and Carolyn, will join Mr. Hall sometime in July.

Mr. Hall will be succeeded here by Bill Caldwell, now assistant manager of the Alexandria, La., store, and is expected to arrive in Hope within the next few days.

Mr. Hall has been with the Penney organization since 1936, first being employed in his home town of Holdenville, Okla. In 1941 he entered the U. S. Army as a private and was discharged in 1945 as a Lt. Colonel.

He rejoined the Penney organization after the war, served in various capacities at Ada, Okla., Fort Smith and Fayetteville, and arrived in Hope August 1, 1932, as local manager.

An avid civic booster, he has been a leader in a number of civic, church and educational organizations while a resident of Hope, having served as a director of Hope chamber of commerce, later as chairman of the retail merchants committee, and in 1935 was elevated to president of Hope Chamber of Commerce.

He is a member of the Board of Stewards of the First Methodist church; vice-chairman of the Hempstead County Advisory Committee on Education; served as director of Hope Kiwanis Club three years and in January of 1937 became president of the club.

He has served Hope and Hempstead County as fund-raiser chairman of the American Red Cross and American Cancer Society.

Mrs. Hall has been a teacher in the Garland School since 1934; is a member of the Friday Music Club and First Methodist Church.

Smart girls get what they want without half crying.

80 Members in Reading Club

A check Monday of the World Traveler Reading Club at Hempstead County Library showed that there were 80 members. These members had read 192 books.

Any child who will be in the fourth grade next year or above may join the Reading Club. The club will close July 31.

14 Are Killed, 9 Hurt in Army Truck Accident

By GAVIN SCOTT
P. T. CAMPBELL, Ky. (AP)—A canvas-covered Army truck careened off a bridge yesterday and landed upside down in a rocky creek, killing 14 paratroopers and injuring nine others.

Many of the injured lay trapped among the dead until a helicopter lifted the rear of the flattened truck.

The soldiers of the new 101st "Pentami" Airborne Division were returning to barracks after four days of field training in a remote area of this vast base astride the Kentucky-Tennessee line.

The 2½-ton truck suddenly veered across a gravel road, sliced off 15 to 20 feet of steel bridge rail and smashed into the shallow creek 20 feet below.

Several soldiers struggled free, tried unsuccessfully to free their buddies and then propped the heads of the trapped men above water. One survivor clambered up the bank to summon aid.

Two helicopters were used to evacuate the victims to the base hospital. Authorities said all the survivors are expected to live.

A board of inquiry began an investigation of the accident, the worst in the history of this 100,000-acre military reservation. It occurred on the Tennessee section of the sprawling post.

Army authorities declined to speculate as to the cause, pending an official report.

Several survivors estimated the truck was traveling 40 to 45 miles an hour. The P. T. Campbell, speed limit on gravel roads is 25 miles an hour.

The victims were members of the 327th Airborne Infantry, of the famed "Screaming Eagle" airborne division of World War II whose commander said "nuts" to a German demand for their surrender while besieged at Bastogne.

"At first I thought it was a pretty good scare—noting serious," said Pvt. Ronald J. Curtis, 21, Kalamazoo, Mich., one of the survivors. "Then there was a falling sensation, then a thud—not a crash."

"There was a feeling of falling and a pressure of bodies against us. Everyone was being tossed around. There was no panic, no screaming, no yelling."

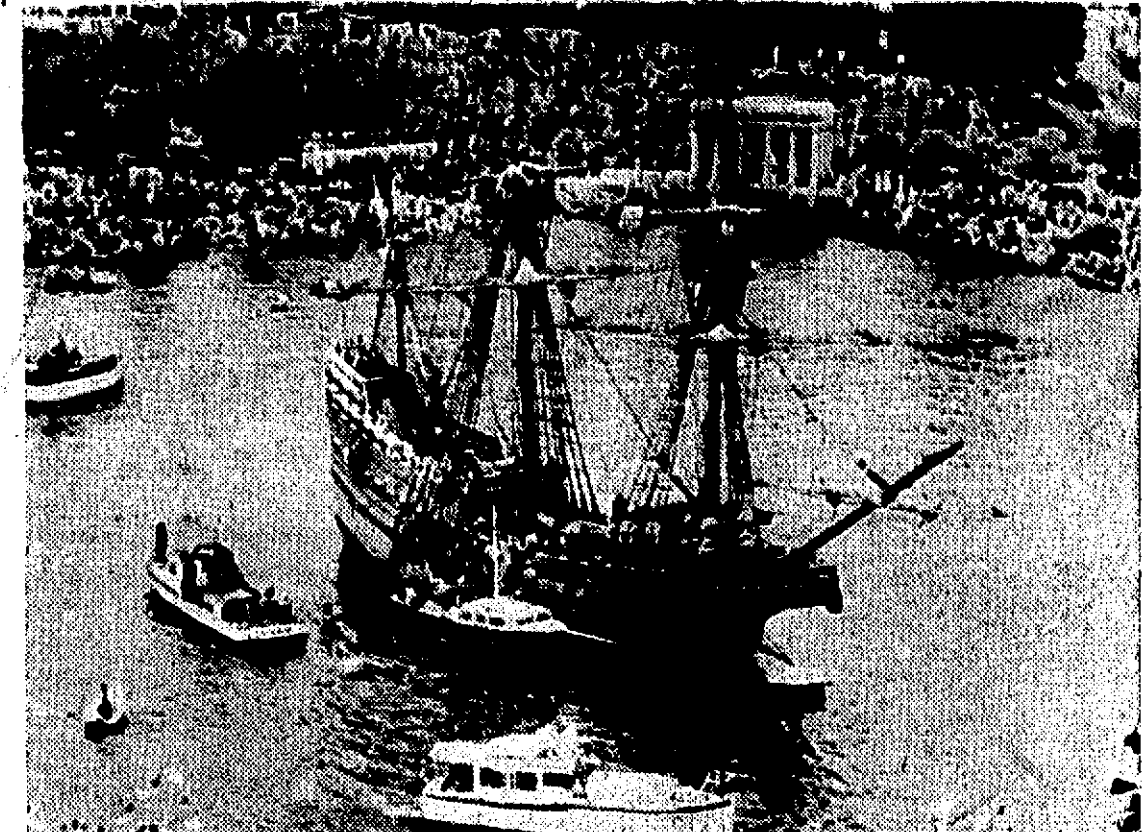

Curtis said he saw an opening and crawled out, along with two or three others. While the others tried to aid their trapped companions, Curtis scrambled back to the road and flagged a passing jeep.

A quarter of a mile away, he spotted a telephone repairman on a pole and got him to summon help.

The helicopters were dispatched to the scene, about 10 miles south of post headquarters, as ambulances began the trip over unpaved roads.

A sling from one copter was attached to the left rear of the truck, which then was raised to permit removal of the injured and dead. The casualties were pulled

Supporters of Civil Rights Seek a Vote

WASHINGTON (UP)—The House Civil Rights forces drove today for a final vote on the civil rights program by nightfall.

But Southerners said they have many more amendments to propose, they predicted no final vote today.

The House spent five hours yesterday debating and defeating amendments affecting a small section of the bill.

The amendments were aimed at limiting or changing the duties of the civil rights bill. The commission would investigate complaints of right-to-vote violations.

The key amendment still to come was the "jury trial" amendment. That would guarantee the right of trial by jury instead of by a federal judge to persons accused of violating federal injunctions in civil rights cases.

House GOP leader Joseph W. Martin Jr. predicted the Southerners would get a "good licking" on the amendment.

Americans Hail the Crew of Mayflower II

PLYMOUTH, Mass. (AP)—The hardy crew members of Mayflower II were hailed today by the peoples of the United States and England with completion of the re-enactment of the historic saga of 1620.

The 55-man crew under Cmdr. Alan Villiers brought the 180-ton square-rigged bark Mayflower II into Plymouth Harbor yesterday as the Pilgrims did 337 years ago.

Villiers guided the replica ship 24 miles across Cape Cod Bay yesterday after remaining in Provincetown overnight. The original Mayflower also called at Provincetown before dropping anchor at Plymouth.

Thousands were on shore to welcome Mayflower II as planes and helicopters flew overhead and a cannon salute was fired from a shore battery.

There were messages from President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Harold Macmillan of England.

Dies of Malnutrition and Had Fortune in Her Home

NEW YORK (UP)—A half-million dollar fortune, stored about equally in crumbling hat boxes and steel bank vaults, was counted up today in the dilapidated home of an 80-year-old woman who died of malnutrition.

Mrs. Emma Buhl De Hart, widow of a tugboat owner and captain, had been the original owner and owner of almost the entire main street of Port Richmond, Staten Island. She started it with a small candy store in the 1890's.

For the last years she had lived alone in a fire-damaged Main Street apartment over the store. She had no telephone and no mail.

Her fortune was stored in a nearby five and ten cent store. But Mrs. De Hart owned the building in which she had lived for nearly 50 years and much of the street.

On May 23 police and relatives found Mrs. De Hart ridden and so ill she could barely speak. She was suffering from kidney and heart ailments and had not eaten for several days. She had been too weak to call for help, she whispered. She died at Sonny-side hospital five days later.

Police, a nephew and an attorney went to the apartment yesterday to search for a will which might dispose of the $205,000 in Mrs. De Hart's bank accounts. They found $10,000 in cash in a tin box near her bed. Then the hat boxes were found on a shelf at the back of a dusty closet. The total cash found was finally added up to $205,000 early today. Search of the apartment was to continue.

Mrs. De Hart's husband, Samuel, a member of the pioneer Staten Island family, died 11 years ago. Three years later, relatives said, their apartment was damaged by fire. Mrs. De Hart moved to a nephew's residence but missed her home and returned to the damaged apartment. Four rooms were unusable because of fire damage; she lived out her life in the remaining two. She had no children but is survived by 10 nieces and nephews.

Resignation of Defense Chief Taken

WASHINGTON (UP)—President Eisenhower today accepted the resignation of Val Peterson as defense chief.

Peterson, as federal civil defense administrator and nominated him to be the new ambassador to Denmark.

Leo A. Hoegh, former governor of Iowa, was nominated to succeed Peterson as head of the civil defense administration.

Peterson, a former Republican governor of Nebraska, has served as civil defense chief since February, 1953.

If confirmed by the Senate, Peterson will succeed Robert D. Coe as ambassador to Denmark. Coe, a veteran foreign service officer, recently resigned.

Hoegh served as attorney general of Iowa in 1953-54 and governor from 1954 through 1956.

Since the first year Hoegh, a 49-year-old infantry veteran of World War II, has been practicing law in his hometown, Chariton, Iowa.

Peterson served as governor of Nebraska from 1947 to 1953, and before being selected to head civil defense, he served briefly as an administrative assistant to Eisenhower.

In accepting his resignation, Eisenhower praised Peterson's leadership and his efforts to bring about the broadest possible participation of the American people in the civil defense program.

REASON FOR DIVORCE

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UP)—Mrs. Mary Ann Marquet, 25, asked for a divorce because her husband, Thomas, 25, kept a cocker spaniel in their bed.

She was granted the divorce on grounds of cruel and inhuman treatment when she explained the dog snarled and bit her when she tried to get in bed.

Government in Haiti Is Overthrown

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti (AP)—The government of Provisional President Daniel Fignole was overthrown today in a military coup.

It was the fifth government to be unseated in this troubled Negro republic since last December. Fignole, who had wide backing among the peasants and working classes, took office after street clashes erupted into brief civil war May 25.

Police headquarters announced that Brig. Gen. Antonio Kereau, the army chief, "dismissed Fignole and the entire Cabinet." The announcement said a communique would be issued later in the day by which the army would take over all governmental powers.

The whereabouts of Fignole and his ministers was not immediately known. They presumably were arrested in the early hours this morning.

Crowds immediately started mushrooming in an ugly mood around police headquarters, the presidential palace and a army headquarters. Police and troops stood by ready to cope with any outbreak.

Mother Tries But Can't Save Son

HOT SPRINGS (AP)—A mother's desperate attempt to save her 3-year-old son here failed yesterday.

Calvin Marvi Brown died in the fire.

His mother, Mrs. Lillie M. Brown, 37, took four other children to safety and then found she could not reach the second floor of the house where Calvin had been sleeping.

She put a ladder against the house and climbed to the window of her room but, she said, he had crawled away and she was unable to find him.

The mother was hospitalized here with facial and body burns. She is the wife of Army Sgt. W. O. Brown, who is stationed in Germany.

Two older children were away from home when the fire occurred. A defective flue in a kitchen stove apparently caused the blaze, firemen said. The house was destroyed.

Congress Told Tax Cuts Can't Be Made Now

By B. L. LIVINGSTONE
WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey told Congress today that tax cuts cannot be voted until there is a sufficient surplus in the Treasury to pay for them.

"Such a surplus does not exist at the present time," he said.

Testifying before the Senate-Economic subcommittee, Humphrey also said the nation can look forward "to a continuing period of high prosperity" if government spending is controlled and "runaway inflation" is prevented.

As he has before, Humphrey said again he believes present tax rates are too high, but that "no general tax reduction should be considered at the present time."

"The most effective tax cut that can be made to promote healthy economic development is a reduction which will bring benefit to all taxpayers—when your fiscal situation permits," he said.

Humphrey warned against what he called ill-considered "mean-spirited slashing of the budget."

Humphrey went on to say that the largest budget problem is one of obtaining long-term savings, and noted that with the end of the 1957 fiscal year this month the government has in prospect a balanced budget for three consecutive years "for the first time in more than 25 years."

"If we are successful in properly controlling the size and spending of government, we can look forward to a continuing period of

Cheating on Medical Tests Is Reported

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The secretary of the State Medical Board today said that he had received reports of "gross and widespread cheating" on state medical examinations.

Dr. Jo Versor of Harrisburg said that, "After hearing these reports from the medical students, I am making a complaint to the Basic Science Board."

"According to statements from the medical students, there was widespread and gross cheating among some of those taking the examination. It was not, I am happy to say, among any of the medical students."

Medical doctors, chiropractors and osteopaths are required to take basic science examinations as well as examinations by their respective boards in order to receive licenses to practice.

Dr. Versor said that an honor system for medical students "has worked over many years and none of the physicians... want to see the system broke down again who goes through four years of medical school examinations on the honor system and then goes into a basic science examination and sees out-of-state people getting by with cheating is pretty apt to take a 'what-the-hell' attitude toward his practice."

Under the honor system, students also are under an obligation to report cheating by anyone.

Some 450 persons took the examination, including some 100 medical students. Five or six of the students failed.

Damage Slight in Accident Here

Police investigated an accident at Main and Second Streets yesterday in which slight damage resulted. An auto being backed out from the curb by Mrs. J. T. Beavers hit another driven by S. Duhney of Washington. Officers charged Mrs. Beavers with failure-to-yield the right-of-way.

Severe Storm Warning for Three States

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A severe storm warning, including the possibility of tornadoes, was issued today for extreme northwest Arkansas, southwestern and central Missouri and northeast Oklahoma.

The weather warning, which was originated by the Kansas City bureau, said that "scattered severe thunderstorms and a few tornadoes" are expected from 11 a. m. to 6 p. m.

The warning said, "The approximate area is along and 120 miles to the east of a line from 60 miles west of Columbia, Mo., to 30 miles east of Oklahoma City, Okla."

The U. S. Weather Bureau here said that only the northwest tip of the state was in the warning area.

The bureau said that the warning did not include Fayetteville, but took in Rogers, Springdale, Siloam Springs and other cities in towns in the northwest corner.

Lumber Mill Is Moving to Norman

LITTLE ROCK (UP)—A lumber mill valued at $250,000 will be moved from Idabel, Okla., to Norman, in Montgomery County, Ark., the owner announced here today.

Robert Stauter said construction already had been started on the new plant, and it is expected to be in production within 30 days.

The firm will manufacture dimension stock, pipe, lumber and furnish chips to Arkansas paper mills by adding a debarker and chipper to the other equipment.

Stauter said the plan will employ about 100 men, and will be in full operation within six months. Most of the workers will be hired locally, except for four or five families who will move with the plant.

Stauter said he was moving because timber was not available at the present location in Oklahoma. He said he had reached an agreement with the United States Forestry Service for pine timber.

Norman is nine miles south of Mount Ida, on the Womble branch of the Missouri Pacific railroad and on state Highways 8 and 27.

Senate Nears a Vote on Foreign Aid Measure

By ERNEST B. VACCARO
WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate approached a vote today on the $3,637,000,000 foreign aid bill today with its leadership outwardly confident of defeating attempts to cut it by 300 million dollars.

Operating under an agreement limiting debate, Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.), majority leader, expressed belief the Senate will vote final passage sometime tonight.

The big test shaped up on an amendment by Sen. Long (D-La.) to slash authorizations for military assistance to 1½ billion dollars—300 millions less than the Senate Foreign Relations Committee recommended for the fiscal year starting July 1.

Another amendment proposed by Long would reduce defense support to 710 millions. "This would be 90 millions under the committee figure."

The Foreign Relations Committee cut administration requests by 227 millions. Sen. Morse (D-Ore.) yesterday called that "but a spit in the ocean of foreign aid waste."

Opponents also were primed with amendments aimed at stripping longer range authority from the bill and at retaining the present system of year-to-year authorizations.

Advocates of cuts conceded the odds were against them. But they flailed away at the bill most of yesterday.

Morse said "a senseless waste of millions" has contributed to what he called "a rising tide of anti-Americanism throughout the world."

Sen. Talmadge (D-Ga.) said economic aid had been used for everything from "bathing facilities for Egyptian camel drivers" to "collapsible toothpaste tubes in Cambodia."

Sen. Olin D. Johnston (D-SC) charged there was "little mutual" about the mutual security program, "other than the fact that American taxpayers are mutually sick of paying the full load for the rest of the world."

But the bill was championed stoutly by others of both parties. Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn.) accused opponents of raising "shakeseerie arguments."

Sen. Aiken (R-Vt.) declared that because of foreign aid "the crack in the Iron Curtain is widening" and that Red satellites are looking hopefully to the day when they, like Yugoslavia, "may be free" from Russian domination.

Those who succeeded in freeing themselves, bleeding and in shock, fought frantically to release their high prosperity for our country," he said.

"A major ingredient in this high prosperity is the confidence of the American people—confidence in themselves, in each other and, of fundamental importance, confidence in their government."

"One thing that can destroy not only our present prosperity but even jeopardize our way of life is runaway inflation," he said.

"The restraints on credit involving some increases in the cost of money and the maintenance of taxes at the present levels at least until such time as we have a substantial excess of income over expenditures, are important factors which will assist in restraining a substantial increase in the cost of living."

Humphrey and Federal Reserve Chairman William McC. Martin were called as windup witnesses before a Senate-House Economic Subcommittee investigating tax and fiscal policies of the government.

Budget Director Percival F. Brundage told the subcommittee yesterday it would be "very bad" to go ahead with tax cuts now and add to what he said are inflationary pressures already pushing federal spending upward.

"For the present," he said, "I believe that our major fiscal ob-informally with Valerian Zorin, Soviet disarmament delegate.

One factor contributing to Washington's encouragement at the initial Soviet reaction was a reported indication that the Russians would be willing to let international disarmament inspectors be stationed on Soviet territory.

The Soviet government previously had said it was prepared to accept inspection teams as part of a general disarmament program. The present indication is that they would be willing to have the inspectors at an early stage of an arms control program as part of an agreement for ending the nuclear arms race.

Storm Causes Damage in Damascus

DAMASCUS, 14 — A tornado, possibly two, skipped along the outskirts of this tiny mountain town last night causing some property damage. Another twister dipped into the Guy community about 6 miles southeast of here.

No injuries were reported here or at Guy.

Mrs. R. W. Webb said Guy residents saw a black funnel rise and dip and Harley Fay Acre said he saw a barn "lifted as high as a tree top."

The guy storm apparently struck shortly after a twisting wind ripped into the southern edge of Damascus at 8:25 p.m. unroofing a planing mill and damaging an adjacent saw mill owned by Aud C. Shofner.

Power and telephone service were knocked out.

The freakish wind then crossed U. S. Highway 65 and tore away the front porch from the frame home of Fred Thomas.

Jim Alumbaugh reported he saw a second funnel carrying debris hovering over eastern Damascus but it apparently caused no damage to the central Arkansas community.

Thomas, 51, said he was standing inside the front screen door of his house when he saw "leaves whirling" above a store across the highway. He turned away to call his wife, he said, and the next moment the screen door and the wide porch were swept away.

"We didn't have time to do anything," he said.

In the house with the couple was their 12-year-old grandson.

Shofner, who took refuge with his wife and child in Thomas' storm cellar, said he spotted the twister while he was out feeding his cattle.

It had a "tail" and was touching the ground, he said.

Damascus proper, a town of about 500, escaped damage.

Authorities, however, feared for the community when telephone communications was cut and de-

Finkbeiner to Run for Governor

LITTLE ROCK, 14 — Apparently taking a cue from former Gov. Sid McMath, Little Rock packer Chris Finkbeiner yesterday put himself into the 1958 governor's race "come what may."

McMath recently announced his debris across the highway temporarily blocked state police cars.

Work crews immediately began the job of restoring utility lines but when most residents finally settled down for the night they had only candlelight.

Thomas said damage to out-buildings in the immediate vicinity of his home was extensive.

"It must have gotten my chick house," he added, "because I can't find it."

The freakish storm also smashed out the rear window of Thomas' car which was parked in front of the house. The glass apparently was shattered by the pressure of the wind.

The Little Rock Weather Bureau said the tornadoes could have been spawned by an isolated thunderstorm. No severe weather alert had been issued for any part of Arkansas.

Tuesday night a windstorm had uprooted several trees at South side, a community about 5 miles north of Damascus.

Calls Red China Travel Ban 'Folly'

MEMPHIS, 14 — The president of the University of Arkansas says he regards the State Department's ban on travel in Red China "the height of folly."

If the United States does not have the "gumption" to see what is going on in Asia, Russia has, Dr. John Tyler Caldwell told a Finkbeiner will be a rookie politician as far as experience in making races is concerned. He has never held public office.

The 35-year-old Finkbeiner recently was elected to an unprecedented fourth term as president of the National Independent Meat Packers Association and has been active in state and local civic affairs.

said.

The desire to "stand tall like everybody else," Dr. Caldwell added, is not only found in the revolt against white domination in Asia but also in the assertion of rights by the American Negro.

"What we are having in America," he said, "are human beings acting like human beings and saying, 'I don't want my rights circumscribed'."

What's Wrong? Parents
Are, In This Instance

Dear Dorothy Dix: Our 15-year-old daughter thinks we're terrible parents because we won't let her have dates. In class the other day she asked her teacher what to do about parents who won't let her date and don't take enough interest in her school activities.

What in the world's wrong here? We try to attend most school doings. We can't be perfect but we do our best. MRS. A. K. Dear Mrs. A. K.: You seem to be sidetracking the main issue. Do you let your daughter have dates? At 15 she's old enough to go to a dance or movie with a boy.

Dear Dorothy Dix: What can I

Lawrence. Others dispensing hospitalities were Mrs. E. H. Brown, Mrs. Henry Taylor, Mrs. Paul Posner, Mrs. Jerry Bowden, Miss Beth Bridges and Miss Linda Roberts of Texarkana.

Coming and Going

Mr. and Mrs. N. C. Foster and daughter have returned from New Orleans where they visited their daughter Sue Gibson and family.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. McCalles of Cisco, Texas are the guests of her brother J. S. Strickland and Mrs. Strickland.

Mrs. M. D. Downs and grandchildren Bobby Stuart and Sue Taliferro will attend the wedding of Miss Wanda Pettie at the Arcadia Baptist Church in Dallas on Sunday June 16.

do about a neighbor who borrows food and takes up my valuable time talking about her wonderful children? I have five children and love them, but occasionally like to talk about something else.

Dear H. F.: There's one sure cure for annoying neighbors. A dose of their own medicine! Get to her door with an outstretched cup, bent her to the punch with kiddie stories, park in her kitchen for a change.

Dear Dorothy Dix: Two years ago I married my second husband who, like myself, had been widowed. He still talks of his first wife constantly. When I do something sentimental, such as greeting cards on special occasions, he says his first wife never did anything so foolish. He shows me no affection whatever and, since I am of a very warm nature, this hurts. A. A. A.

Dear A. A. A.: The energy you spend being hurt could be diverted to a small re-education program on your husband. The fact that he hasn't been accustomed to sentimentality is no reason why he can't acquire some — and like it.

Dear Dorothy Dix: Recently I married a woman with whom I am deeply in love. However, my conscience is bothering me because I'm afraid to tell my first wife. What shall I do? PHIL.

Dear Phil: Unless the bonds of matrimony were legally dissolved between the two weddings, you'll soon be bothered by something more tangible than your conscience. The strong arm of the law will come swooping down at any moment.

If the second marriage was in strict accordance with the law of the state in which you live, why fear your first wife?

Dear Dorothy Dix: If couples who accept the temporary care of a child are called foster parents, what are they called if the child has been legally adopted? H. M. Dear H. M.: Parents of a legally adopted child are just that, parents — in every legal and spiritual sense.

Sunday School Lesson

By William E. Giffey, D. D.
Some years ago I presided over Sunday afternoon meetings for the P. S. A. (Pleasant Sunday Afternoon) Brotherhood, for many years a British institution, which had notable meetings in some Canadian cities.

At the Hamilton, Ontario, meeting we had guest speakers. Outstanding in my memory is a Baptist minister, who was a professional and very brilliant eloquent. His "address" of the afternoon consisted in reciting, without comment, 11 chapters from the book of Genesis, in the King James Version, telling the story of Joseph and his brethren (Genesis 37-48).

I suppose I had read that story, or portions of it, a hundred times, but for me it was a thrilling moment. I had never realized until it all came at one time what a marvelous story it was, and with what skill the Bible had told it.

If it had not been a story from the Bible, of primary importance for its truth, it would have been the world's greatest short story. If the reader will sit down and read the whole story at one sitting he may grasp something of what I mean, even if he lacks the voice and inflection of a minister-eloquist.

He will realize the dramatic situations; the elements of tragedy and tenderness; the suspense and the contrasts.

From every standpoint, I don't know how the facts could have been better arrayed, and the details put in such a way as to bring out the full force of the story.

But what of its religious significance? Of course, it's the story of Joseph. The brothers, with their varying degrees of decency and baseness, are all, in a fashion, against the young family favorite with his coat of many colors.

But some are willing to save him, or at least his life, from the others who are cruel enough to get rid of him in any way they can.

All are actors in the drama, and Jacob, the old man, with a none-too-wholesome background plays now in the final tragedy and triumph in his career. But it is Joseph about whom all the tragedy and triumph centers.

ters. He appears first as a child of Jacob's old age, perhaps a spoiled child, which made his brothers resent him not unreasonably though unjustifiably evil.

And the young Joseph himself makes the situation no better by dreams (Genesis 37:6-17). We left the story at that point, Jacob would appear as an unloving father, and Joseph as an unmanageable prig.

But how wonderfully Joseph emerges into a strong and self-reliant man, as rugged the marble in adversity as the victim of injustice.

It is a story of the triumph of integrity, and it has its lesson in magnanimity, which lay down integrity is the greatest evidence of great character.

In his power he rises to a great height of forgiveness, and for me at least, there is notably human and engaging quality in the way he exercised it. "The cup was found in Benjamin's sack."

He was at least justified in having some truth turn at the expense of the brothers who had wronged him.

But his rebuke was all the more marked as he did them no wrong in return. Revenge may be natural. But magnanimity is divine.

Girls State Names New Officers

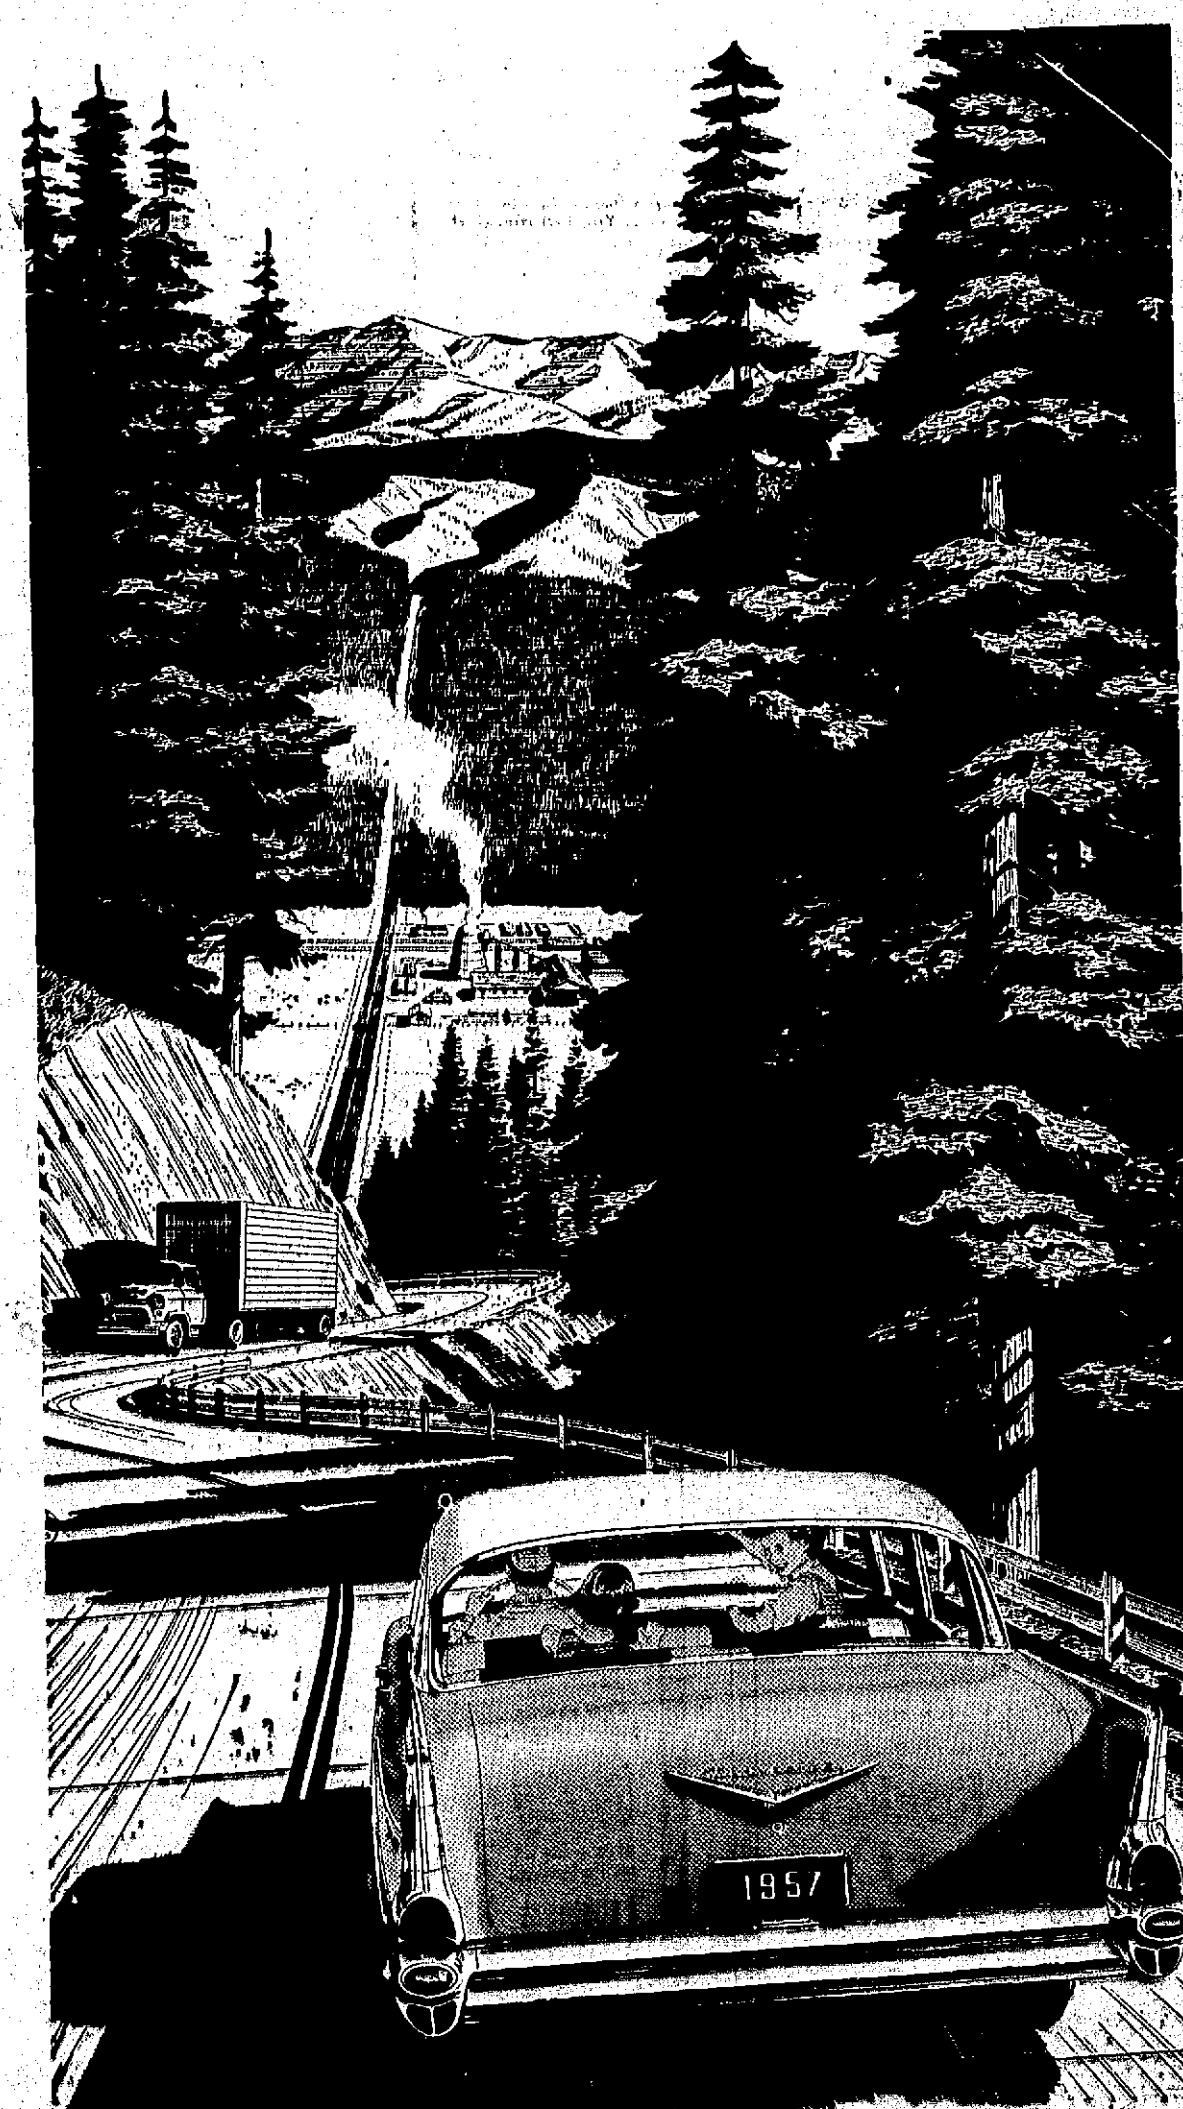

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. — Girls State delegates today named Molly Paulk of Conway governor in an election which saw the Nationalist Party score a one-sided sweep over the Federalists won very top office but one.

Miss Paulk, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Paulk, will move into the governor's office for one day tomorrow during the American Legion-sponsored practical experiment in government at the State Capitol.

Ann Robins of Forrest City, a Federalist who won the lieutenant governorship, was the only member of her party to capture a top office.

Entertainers Must Please the Public

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—Vaughn Monroe, who will serve as host of "Galaxy of Stars" (NBC-TV) tomorrow evening (7 p.m., CST), believes that entertainers have to remember that their job is "to please people, not to show them."

Certainly that is the aim of "Galaxy of Stars" when Monroe will be host to four other top recording vocalists—Tony Martin, Julius La Rosa, Jaye P. Morgan and Georgia Gibbs. It will be an all-musical hour, also featuring jazz pianist Eddie Heywood, songstress Martha Carson, the Lane Brothers and Joe Reisman and his orchestra.

Recalling the days when he was the country's No. 1 band leader, Monroe said, "I always tried to hold in mind that my job was to please people—not to show them. It's something every entertainer has to hold in mind. Especially in the band business it's easy to get the notion that you're so great the whatever you want to play."

Just four years ago Monroe startled the music world when he announced that he was dissolving his famous musical organization in order to become a single performer.

Today he says that "I still miss the boys, but I'm glad that I dissolved the band. I did it because I was bored with being on the road all the time. I wanted a chance to stay home for a while."

Home is in Newton, Mass., where he lives with his wife Marion, and their two daughters, aged 13 and 16. But as a single performer Monroe has been just as busy—and perhaps busier—than when he was leading his band.

He continues to make recordings. Two days a month he comes to New York to make television commercials for a large company for which he also is a traveling representative for the firm. One of his chief interests is the large restaurant which he and his wife operate in Birmingham, Mass.

President Pronounced Completely Recovered

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower's doctor today pronounced him "completely recovered" from his stomach upset.

The physician Maj. Gen. Howard Snyder, reported the President "almost" recovered on Tuesday and again yesterday.

James C. Hagerly, presidential press secretary, told newsmen he had talked to Snyder this morning and "He says I can now take the President has completely recovered from his stomach upset."

Eisenhower was stricken Sunday evening and was confined to bed all day Monday with what three attending physicians described as a "mild" case of stomach distress.

The doctors attributed the illness to "slight overindulgence" in some types of food.

The President bounced back quickly. On Tuesday, he spent an hour and 45 minutes at his office desk. However, his business engagement for that day—as well as those which had been scheduled Monday—were canceled.

Yesterday Eisenhower resumed business appointments, but spent only half a day in the office.

WHY re-enlist in the small-car army?

READ THIS STARTLING FACT

5 out of 10 Smaller Cars wear a Pontiac Price Tag —yet none gives you Any of Pontiac's Advantages

PONTIAC GIVES YOU UP TO 8.3% MORE SOLID CAR PER DOLLAR!

Not one of the smaller cars can give you the heavy-duty construction, the road-hugging lift and solid security that surround you in every Pontiac. Yet Pontiac's the nimblest heavyweight you ever managed—and your Pontiac dealer can show you more than six dozen advanced-engineering reasons why! Pontiac has gone all out to make this genuine big car the best behaved beauty that you ever had the pleasure of boasting. You'll find Pontiac's exclusive Precision-Touch Controls make steering and braking the surest, easiest you've ever experienced! Park it, cruise it, try it in stop-and-go traffic... this is driving the smaller jobs can't duplicate.

PONTIAC GIVES YOU 4 TO 7 INCHES MORE WHEELBASE!

The small cars extend bumpers and fenders to look big—but Pontiac puts the extra length where it counts—between the wheels! Pontiac's longer stride brackets the bumps instead of riding on them. And this extra length shows up inside, too, in stretch-out space for six footers. Add to Pontiac's bonus in length its all-new suspension system and you have an exclusive level-line ride no car at any price can surpass... and a built-in sense of direction and security that will spoil you for the smaller cars forever!

PONTIAC'S PERFORMANCE TOPS THE BEST THE SMALL CARS CAN OFFER—BY A WIDE MARGIN!

Not one of the smaller cars can measure up to Pontiac Performance. Whether you judge a power plant by engineering statistics or on-the-road performance, Pontiac's Strato-Streak V-8 stands head and shoulders above anything in the low-price field. Your Pontiac dealer will be happy to show you a complete facts-and-figures comparison—then an eye-opening test drive in traffic or out on the highway will supply all the heart-lifting proof you need that Pontiac has separated the men from the boys when it comes to performance!

—AND PONTIAC HAS ALWAYS BEEN FAMOUS AS ONE OF AMERICA'S TOP TRADE-INS!

Maybe it comes as a surprise to you that so much more car can be yours at the same price you've seen on the smaller cars. But there's the fact! And Pontiac is a wonderful investment, too! As you know, it has always commanded a top trade-in. So why not step out of the small-car class and into a Pontiac... there's nothing in your way. Your Pontiac dealer has the keys and an eye-opening offer waiting for you right now! So why not look and feel like a million—instead of a million others?

NOTE: If you want the ultimate in both economy and extraordinary performance, new Tri-Power Corporation is available at extra cost on even the lowest priced Pontiac model. It's America's newest power advance and automatically Pontiac's at so low a cost!

Finkbeiner to Run for Governor

WARREN, Ark. (AP)—Chris Finkbeiner, the operator of a meat packing plant at Little Rock, today said that he definitely plans to run for governor next year.

Finkbeiner was rumored as a possible candidate for the office last year, but apparently changed his mind a short time before the filing deadline.

He told the group of professional and business men that he would run for Arkansas governor in 1958 "come what may."

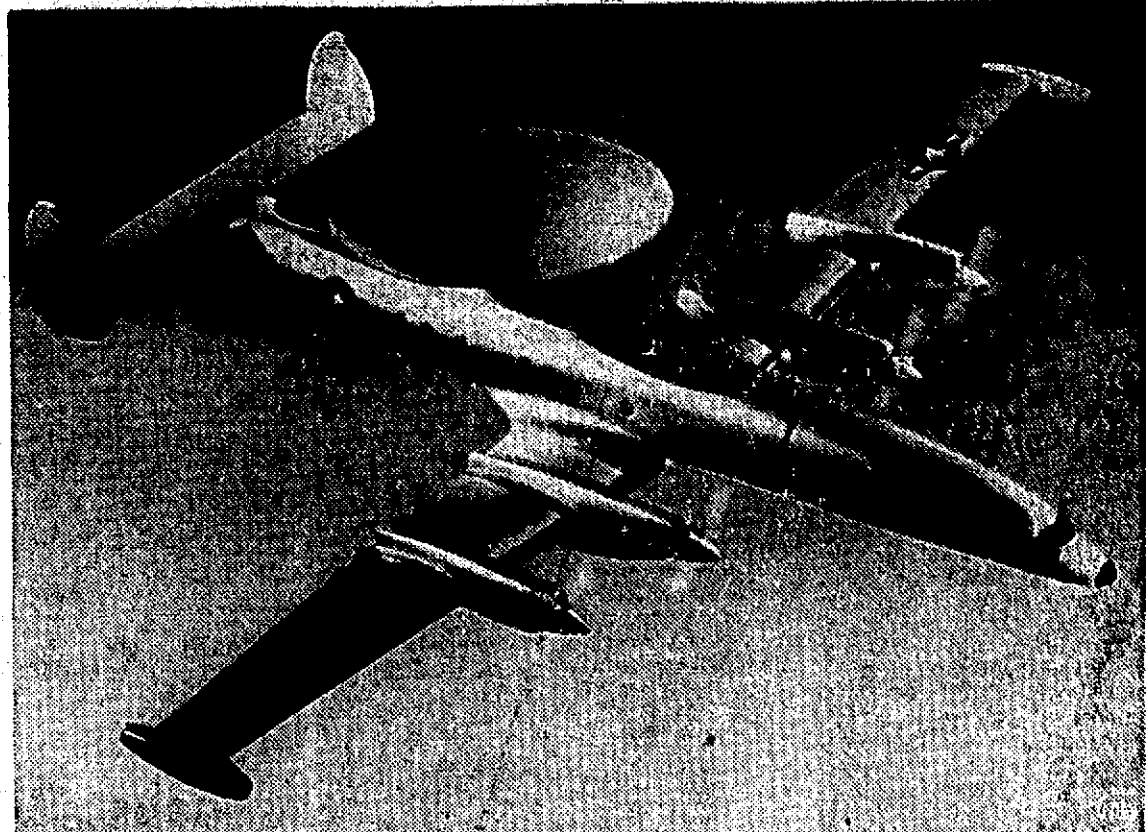

Finkbeiner is in Warren to serve as judge tonight at the annual Tomato Festival here. He had asked the group of men to attend the luncheon.

The Little Rock meat packer is president of the national Independent Meat Packers Association.

He has been considered a potential candidate since a rumor started in 1956 shortly before the filing deadline that he would run.

Finkbeiner was present at the Marion Hotel in Little Rock along with candidates for other offices shortly before the filing deadline, but apparently decided at that time that he would not run.

No other candidates have announced, but Gov. Orval Faubus is believed to be considering a third term.

SKY SENTINEL—A "flying saucer" to sweep the skies is mounted atop the new radar plane now in preproduction planning for the U.S. Navy by Lockheed Aircraft Corporation's California division. Its design is revealed for the first time in this photo of a model. The new sky sentinel is intended to expand the U.S. aerial warning system. Similar to the Lockheed 1649A Starliner, but with a radar "parasol" and twin-fin tail, this successor to the current flying radar stations will be equipped with two turbojets, in wingtip pods, in addition to its four prop-jet engines.

THE STORY: With each passing day, Dr. Garde Shelton, the new doctor at the Bayard clinic, is reminded that he is filling the shoes of Dr. Kurt Lillard, who was convicted of murder. Garde is constantly being told that he does not have the bedside manner that Kurt had.

CHAPTER XI

Old Dr. Lillard came frequently to the clinic, a frail man helped by a black and kindly chauffeur who once explained to Garde that the doctor had "forgot his memory." Charles was strong and skilled in transferring the paralyzed man from the car to his light wheelchair.

The old doctor could not speak. Garde thought perhaps that his over-all memory was intact, but his ability to remember words was gone. He could neither talk nor read nor write. One arm hung dead and useless; he had some service from his right leg, but at his age it was generally considered safer for him to use the chair.

His face and his eyes showed the great troubles weighting his heart. But he liked coming to the office; he liked this slight sharing of the clinic's work. Garde was sure that he did.

He was welcome, and no bother

Wants to Be Buried by Son She Killed

By DAVEE S. MILLER

LITTLE ROCK, (UP)—Relative of a twice-widowed dependent young mother, who shot her three sons in the head Tuesday and took her own life, planned to decide today whether to grant her last request as one of the boys still held to a slender thread of life.

Mrs. Mary Sharp, 36, wrote in one of the five notes found in her room home at North Little Rock that she wanted to be buried with her youngest son, Charles, 7, who died yesterday.

All three boys were found alive shot through the head with a .23 caliber automatic pistol when police crashed through the locked front door at the request of Mrs. Sharp's mother, Mrs. Vance Rial, who had come to take Charles to bible school.

Douglas, 10, died in the hospital several hours after he was given emergency treatment.

William Pat O'Brien, 13, son of Mrs. Sharp's first husband who was killed in World War II, —except at the occasional times when he watched Garde almost pleadingly. Then the new doctor was inclined to say, "Don't worry, sir, I know, I can't take your son's place."

He mentioned this impulse one evening after Dr. Lillard had been in his office.

"You're very good to him, I'd say," said Dr. Windsor.

"The old gentleman has something on his mind," Garde said, turning over cards, checking them with the notes he had made while examining each patient. "As if wanted to say something and couldn't."

Garde rewrote something on the note sheet so that Miss Sandbach could decipher it. "Should I try to guess what it is he wants to say?"

"I think it only confuses him. We guess wrong — of course and that upsets him."

"I see. Well . . ."

"Try not to mind. He's been a really fine man in his time. And this thing about Kurt . . ." Windsor sighed heavily. Then he straightened. "It's odd, you know, Shelton, how many people that thing hurt! I wouldn't have thought — well, of course, I suppose all such tragedies disrupt life. Many lives. But here it has been brought home to us."

Ever since I've come here using that other man's office, his desk, his pen," Garde lifted the black and silver cylinder. "I've felt very much in this thing."

"Do you see much of those girls?"

"A little. They're right next door, and I meet them occasionally in a social way. They've been very kind." He grinned, then told of his disagreement with Valley about the planting of the trees.

"What'd she want to plant trees for?"

"It wouldn't be — well, polite for her to discuss her reasons. Not with me who has to seem loyal to my dear, but undoubtedly inquisitive, mother."

Windsor laughed and Garde suddenly remembered his primary judgment that he would like this man least of the three clinic doctors. He had never been more mistaken! Windsor was a prince.

Dr. Windsor put his crutch under the floor. "Hazel told me you'd love to lay paving stones this evening, doctor. It seems she talked to you about our project at the club the other night and that you even drew designs. She says you're very talented."

"I suspect her flattery as much as I do your account of it," Garde wrote a last sentence upon his sheet of notes. "It may get the family — and your patio nowhere."

"Ah, but it can get you steak," Windsor reminded him. "And me too, because Hazel told me to bring you home this evening."

Garde laughed helplessly and got up from his chair. "I'll bet one of you has already called Mother and told her I'd not be home for dinner."

"All taken care of. I think of everything!"

These people Dewey and Hazel Windsor at least — were his friends. He was making his own place with them, and he was going to have a fine evening of laying heavy paving stones and eating steak.

Genevieve Copeland that same week called to invite him to a party.

The Copeland home was the pink house at the end of his own street, the house which Garde had mentally named "Casa Rosada." His mother sniffed at its pinkness; she sniffed at Genevieve's extreme dressiness and watched the Copelands about as closely as she did the Stanfields.

Now Genevieve said, "I won't even both to ask your mother, Garde, but I hope you'll come."

"I'd be happy to. Thank you very much."

"All right. And Garde?"

"Yes?"

"Will you bring Nan Stanfield? You take Kurt's place in so many ways . . ."

Now really! This was carrying the thing entirely too far! As close as she lived to Copelands', Nan could have taken herself to the party. And if she had to have a man bring her, the girl would prefer someone nearer her own age. She couldn't be much over 20. And she seemed very popular. Everyone spoke admiringly of her. His mother said she well places with a variety of men of assorted ages.

Of course Lillard must have been must be about Garde's age.

get for days" before a "turn one way of the other."

Pulaski county Coroner Dr. Howard A. Dishongh ruled the deaths suicide, two murders and attempted murder. Rial told police she "felt" his step-daughter had been considering suicide for several months. One of the notes found was dated March 15, 1957.

Neighbors of the woman described Mrs. Sharp, whose second husband died about a year ago from a heart attack, as "withdrawn" but "A good woman." She was a member of a nearby church.

When police smashed through the front door of the home they found Mrs. Sharp dead from a bullet wound over her left eye and the pistol underneath her body.

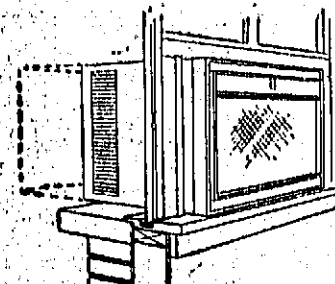

Charles was lying on the floor in the same room with his mother's body and the other two boys were in bed in another room with a sheet pulled over them. Police said Mrs. Sharp apparently shot them while they were asleep.

One of the notes was labeled "my funeral arrangements" and had details for funerals for the mother and her three sons, including names of pallbearers, honorary pallbearers, the minister and songs to be sung.

Another note, apparently written just before the shootings, explained that she "couldn't go on" and that she shot her sons because "nobody else wanted them" and that "they want to be with me."

She asked that Charles be placed in her coffin with her.

"He has always slept with me, and my only hope is that he can sleep on with me," the note said.

Seven adjustable mounting positions—fits flush to drapes inside the room or fits flush to window sill outside.

The advertiser's highest standard—of circulation value

Every industry has a standard by which its products can be measured.

The jeweler uses the symbol of a pure diamond. In flatware, the word "sterling" and in dinnerware, the word "bone china," represent high standards of quality and value.

For the advertiser, the symbol of the highest standard of circulation value is the emblem of the Audit Bureau of Circulations*. This hallmark means that newspapers or periodicals so identified are measured according to the most highly regarded rules and standards in the advertising and publishing industry.

The fact that we are privileged to display this A.B.C. emblem here means that you can buy advertising in this newspaper as you would make any other sound business investment—on the basis of well known standards, known values.

Yankees, Sox Have a Free for All Fight

By WILLIAM J. CONWAY CHICAGO (AP) - It was Will Harkridge's turn to swing today in the free-for-all fight between the Chicago White Sox and the New York Yankees.

Harkridge, president of the American League, planned to announce his verdict and pronounce the penalties during the morning.

He was a spectator at yesterday's battle royal between the belligerent Sox and the brawling Yankees - some of whose stars were fined $1,000 by their club for a recent New York night club altercation.

A wild pitch by Yankee pitcher Art Ditmar in the first inning rang the gong for one of baseball's most vicious wars.

Who was at bat with mates on first and second base, threw himself to the ground to dodge the ball.

Ditmar moved in to protect the plate as catcher Elston Howard retrieved the ball. Doby and Ditmar exchanged words and obeyed a left hook that sent Ditmar to a sitting position on the turf.

Bill Skowron, husky Yankee first baseman, grabbed Doby and threw him to the ground. Walt Dropo, towering White Sox first baseman, tried to pull Skowron from Doby.

Enos Slaughter, of the Yanks went after Dropo. Dropo drove a looping right to Slaughter's balding head.

Players of both teams, keyed up by their pennant contention, swarmed on the field and milled in a melee.

Peace was close at hand when Billy Martin, Yankee firebrand, said something to Doby and they had to be separated.

The punching - Slaughter said it was the sharpest he has seen in many years in the business - and the wrestling, arguing and confusion lasting 20 minutes.

Dropo, Doby, Martin and Slaughter were ejected from the game. Whitey Ford, the Yankees' banished later, for riding umpire John Stevens from the bench.

New York won the game 4-3 and cut the league lead of the White Sox to four games.

Chuck Comiskey, White Sox vice president, told newsmen he had protested to the chief umpire, Larry Napp, because Doby and Dropo, his team's power hitters, were cast out while Ditmar was allowed to stay in the game.

Comiskey quoted Napp as saying Doby was the aggressor and that's why Ditmar was allowed to remain.

Doby stated later that he struck in "self defense" - he thought Ditmar was coming after him.

Braves Defeat Dodgers, Get Back Loop Lead

By ED WILKS Of The Associated Press

How hot can the pennant races get in September, what with first place resting on percentage-point leads and player brawls busting out all over in June?

The Milwaukee Braves, following Manager Fred Haney's spring directive to the letter, hustled and scrapped back into the National League lead, by eight percentage points, with a riotous 6-5 victory over the Brooklyn Dodgers yesterday.

They made it with the help of Pittsburgh's Pirates as Manager Bobby Bragan's kids swept a four-game set from Cincinnati, skidding the Redlegs from first to third with a 3-2 victory.

Philadelphia surged back into second place, six points ahead of the Redlegs, with 6-5 victory over the Brooklyn Dodgers yesterday.

Only 1 1/2 games away from first and nine points back of fourth-place Brooklyn.

The American League had its moments too. Chicago and New York had a rip-roaring, 20-minute melee before the second-place Yankees trimmed the White Sox lead to four games with a 4-3 decision.

And Ted Williams tied a major league record, unloading three home runs in one game for the second time this season as the Boston Red Sox hammered Cleveland 9-3, knocking the Indians backing to fourth place. Detroit regained third, nipping Baltimore 2-1.

Kansas City smacked Washington 6-2 and the New York Giants clipped the Chicago Cubs 7-4 in the other games.

The Braves, who were last in the lead May 11, hustled back after blowing a 4-0 lead, built mainly on Billy Branton's two home runs - and after a second-inning blowup triggered by a Don Drysdale pitch that caught Milwaukee shortstop Johnny Logan in the side.

Both Drysdale and Logan were thrown out of the game after the free-for-all was put down.

Milwaukee finally won the series 3-1 with a four-run eighth inning against Dodger relief ace Clem Labine.

Carl Sawatski's three-run homer bagged it. Bob Dyer, right-hander, Jack Sanford chopped down the Cardinals with a nine-inning. The Cardinal run, in the third, was the first off the 27.

Anthony Risks His First Place Ranking

DETROIT (AP) - Tony Anthony, while waiting for champion Archie Moore to agree to a defense of his light-heavyweight crown, risks his No. 1 ranking tonight against French Canadian Yvon Durelle.

Anthony has everything to lose and nothing to gain except a $4,000 guarantee in this nationally televised - NBC, 8 p. m. CST - bout scheduled for 10 rounds at Olympic Stadium.

"I can't wait forever on Archie," the 22-year-old New Yorker explained. "I gotta keep busy."

Durelle, a swarthy 27-year-old who successfully defended his Canadian light-heavyweight title just two weeks ago by knocking out Gordon Wallare in two rounds, isn't regarded as much of a threat to Anthony's position.

year-old rookie in 26 innings. Bob Friend kept the Redlegs in a spin with a sixhitter, giving up two home runs by Don Hoak, to win his fourth while the Pirates were nailing Hal Jeffcoat.

Gene Baker's sacrifice fly in the ninth did it.

Chicago's Larry Doby and Walt Dropo and New York's Enos Slaughter and Billy Martin got the heavy-ho at Chicago, after Doby downed Art Ditmar with a sweet left hook to the chin following a wild pitch by the Yankee right-hander that almost nicked the Sox center fielder.

League President Will Harridge sat in on the fuss and said he'd release his findings today.

Jim Rivera homered for a 2-0 White Sox lead, but the Yankees then won the rubber game of the series with a three-run fifth on doubles by Gil McDougald and Mickey Mantle and singles by Bill Skowron and Andy Carey.

Billy Pierce lost it.

Williams tagged loser Eary Wynn for his first two homers, then got No. 17 off Bob Lemon.

Torp Brewer, also supported by Frank Malzone's three RBIs, won his seventh.

Charlie Maxwell's sixth home run in six days and J. W. Porter's RBI double gave the Tigers two sixth-inning runs as right-hander John Taitouris won in his first major league game.

Jack Urban, part of that multi-ply deal with the Yankees last February, won his first major league start for the A's, who backed up his five-hitter with four home runs, all of Pete Ramos.

Whitely Lockman, Ray Jablonski and Red Schoendienst homered for the Giants as reliever Jim Davis won his first - with relief help from his uncle Marv Grissom.

Pair of Pony League Games Here Tonight

Two Pony League games are scheduled for tonight, the first at 8:30 between Hope Builders and Hope Auto. The second contest pairs First National against Hope Basket.

The Builders boys currently lead the league with three straight victories.

EXCEPT THE LORD BUILD THE HOUSE

THEY LABOR IN VAIN THAT BUILD IT

Father's Day

In the memory of every child is enshrined the thoughtful and devoted, self-sacrificing, happy comradeship of a GOOD FATHER. It doesn't make any difference what your trade is, you are all the FATHER your child knows. Dad doesn't ask for a special day but let's give him one... pour on the attention and season it with tenderness. Surprise him! Catch him with the guards of age and dignity down. Let him be the center of all your plans on this one big day... Father's Day. He may be gruff, and steady, and firm but he is an easy victim of love's attack. An x-ray picture of his heart would reveal true concern you never dreamed could be there. Take him to church this Father's Day. Gladden his heart this one day by making all your plans his plans.

YOU IN THE CHURCH
THE CHURCH IN YOU

Character is a by-product of the church. It is here that young and old alike are showered with benedictions that fortify and influence for a better citizenship and a stronger democracy. In the church the ministerial are molding religious character. Statesmen today declare that the church alone can furnish leadership to handle the affairs of state in these perilous times. Then we with our children should go to the church of our choice on Sunday. "You in the Church and the Church in you" form a combination for good. Be a regular CHURCHGOER and a daily BIBLE READER.
